Diversity – strengthening quality care at the end of life will offer insights into the many dimensions of palliative and end-of-life care, sharing best practice to help us make a stronger response to the diversity we face every day: culture, diagnosis, care setting, age, patient context and location.

Plan to join us from Tuesday 30 August until Friday 2 September 2011 in Cairns, and why not stay the weekend. We'll see you there!

President - Palliative Care Queensland

Professor Margaret O'Connor AM

President - Palliative Care Australia

Diversity – it's a word that sums up tropical north Queensland. A conference in Cairns is also an opportunity to experience the wonders of this rich environment, from the World Heritage Great Barrier Reef and Daintree Rainforest, to the ancient Undara Lava Tubes, the spectacular Wallaman Falls and of course, the outback. There are many reasons to visit Cairns in 2011, and attending Diversity is just one of them.
